The tax experts at K & K Tax Services are available to be your resource to help you save the most money and permanently resolve your IRS or State tax issues in the shortest amount of time possible. K & K Tax Services specialize in providing tax help to small businesses and individuals with past due tax debts. Tax relief is as simple as a phone call. Our tax specialists can help you resolve all of your IRS Tax Problems. Our service is distinguished by close personal attention to your tax preparation. The objective of every tax return preparation and income tax planning engagement is to ensure you pay the lowest possible tax allowed by the tax rules this year and in future years, so your assets can grow. Available tax services include federal and state income tax return preparation, preparation of amended tax returns to reflect post-filing changes in a tax situation, and income tax planning for multiple years or specific situations (such as saving for college or claiming proper deductions and/or credits for education expenses). K & K Tax Services also offer preparation for taxpayers facing audits, tax collection actions or tax appeals. We can work directly with your authorized representative that can deal with the IRS on behalf of the taxpayer to deal with back taxes or other tax problems. In most cases, the taxpayer with an authorized representative does not have to personally attend IRS audits or hearings. Check here often for updates on tax developments that may affect your income tax preparation or tax planning for this year and next. We also offer expanded tax information related to both personal and small business income tax preparation and income tax planning. At K & K, we also help clients by overseeing budgets, investments and setting up small businesses. In addition, we conduct quarterly seminars to help our clients stay abreast of new issues, goals and life changes that directly affect their financial well being.

Bookkeeping

We are a bookkeeping service provider and partner with our clients and relieve them of all the financial administrative tasks related to managing a business. We understand how valuable time is for a business owner and tasks such as tax reporting and tax filings, maintaining a general ledger and doing the bank reconciliation are all tasks that consume valuable time during the day. This time could be better utilized by managing and growing your business. Give us a call today to ask about our bookkeeping service and learn about how we can save you time and money.

Financial Statements

Comparative financial statements go hand in hand with our bookkeeping service. Once we record all of the information we generate a set of comprehensive financial statements. We oversee these reports and based on your numbers we communicate ways for you to increase your profitability and reduce your tax liability. Monitoring and understanding your numbers is one of the keys to increasing your profitability.

Payroll

We are a payroll service provider. Our clients receive payroll services from a firm that has an in-depth understanding of the small and medium sized business owner's needs and issues. We provide all of the payroll services of the large payroll "factories" plus we deliver these services with superior customer service, personal payroll guidance and flexibility; qualities often lacking with the large payroll service providers.

Outsourcing

Our controllership package is designed to save you time and money. By outsourcing all of your accounting and bookkeeping needs including your accounts payables and receivables you can save time and money. Some of the benefits include not having to hire a bookkeeper or spend valuable time supervising a bookkeeper and freeing up valuable office real estate by not having an in-house accounting department.

Budgets

Our firm provides a complete range of consulting and advisory services to help with the complexities of financial planning. We truly care about our clients and strive to form lasting relationships with each of them - providing beneficial information, access to a wealth of resources, and a proactive stance in serving each client's needs. These are the things that you can expect your tax advisor to provide. We view our relationship with each of our clients as an ongoing partnership and strive to provide you with quality, up-to-date tax return preparation and advice. We keep abreast of current tax laws throughout the year to minimize your tax liabilities and to maximize your future opportunities.

Income Taxes

K & K Tax Services is an income tax preparer; taxes are not just a seasonal business for us. We handle tax related work throughout the year and pride ourselves by offering personalized customer service. Our success is not based on the number of income tax returns we complete but rather by the quality of the income tax preparation service we provide to our clients.
